Wrong Ordinance Sent.
The Tribune stated yesterday morning that City Treasurer Robinson had received no response from the Scranton Gas and Water company to his request for a statement of the company's gross receipts for the year ending June 1, 1902. President Scranton stated yesterday that the company had received a communication from the city treasurer enclosing a copy of a license tax ordinance which did not appear to have been passed. The company replied to the city treasurer that it would consider the request when the ordinance passed. He said that nothing further has been heard. It was learned that the particular ordinance sent this company was one of the earlier ones introduced and that it had been sent in mistake.

A DELIGHTFUL RECITAL.

The untiring activity of the Conservatory was manifested by another public recital in St. Luke's parish house last evening. This was the Conservatory's second recital this week, and the twentieth of the season.

The first half of the programme was played by piano students who entered the Conservatory in September of this year, or later, as absolute beginners. After hearing these students it was difficult to believe that such really wonderful results have been obtained in so short a time. The most potent proof of these results under the Faellen System of Fundamental Training was shown by the playing of the youngest class ever brought out in the Conservatory recitals.

These little children, who have reached the mature age of six and seven years, were Esther Beaumont, Verna Hibbing, Sara Chandler, May Devine and Margaret Laubach. Before beginning to play they recited in concert a large number of the fifteen major scales, giving each better, sharper and flatter, that composed them.

A class of children, but little older, consisting of Mabel Breschel, Bertha Christman, Harry Engel, Edward Tobin, who have not studied so long, played a selection most charmingly together. Another class of first-year pupils were William Chandler, Sara Walker and Marie Walter, who played "The Mill," by Weber.

The first-year soloists were May Watson, of Green Ridge, who played two pieces; and Emily Wilcox, of Scranton, who played the "Spinning Song," by Elmenreich. Of the second-year pupils, August Hoffman, of Petersburg, and William McKee, of Scranton, delighted the audience with a selection entitled "La Fete aux Champs," by Bachmann. Miss Emma Eckardt, of Pittston, played two numbers—the Valse in A flat, opus 69, by Chopin, and Mazurka in B flat, by Von Wilh.

In a manner that indicated superior ability, Miss Cusie Brandt, another young lady of promise, who played the difficult Presto Agitato, by Mendelssohn ("Song Without Words," No. 21).

A delightful exhibition of class work, at four pianos, both as to precision in time and excellent expression, was given by two classes.

The first consisted of the Misses Adeline Evans, of Old Forge; Laura de Gruchy, of Hyde Park; Lydia Hoskins, of Taylor, and Edna Levan, of Moosic, who played Mazurka opus 164, by Heine. The second, composed of the Misses Genevieve Ehrhard, of Dunmore; Ruth Tringali, of Scranton; Ethel Watkins, of Hyde Park, and Ethel Young, of Clark's Summit, played the Hungarian Gipsy Rondo, by Haydn.

Clara Haas, one of the most talented children in the city, played the Valse in E flat, by Merkel, a piece that is technically quite difficult, and in response to persistent applause she was obliged to repeat it.

Miss Grace Gerlock was heard in the difficult "Kammennoi Ostrow," by Rubinstein. Miss Gerlock is especially gifted, and charms with her musical touch and facile technique. Miss Emma Bone, of Dunmore, rendered the brilliant "Caprice Espagnol," by Moskowski. Miss Bone played this piece in Tuesday's recital and it received so much applause and after-commendation that she was asked to repeat it. Miss Bone was vigorously endorsed.

Three ensemble classes of eight players appeared in the last advanced class, playing the celebrated March from Tannhauser, by Wagner.

In this recital exactly fifty-five different students took part and the concert was one of the most notable in many respects which the Conservatory has given. The announcement by Professor Pennington of the recital next Monday evening by Carl Faellen, the celebrated pianist and author of the Faellen System, was greeted with applause.

WILL BE FOR PATTISON.

Lackawanna Delegates to Democratic State Convention Favor the Philadelphian for Governor.

Lackawanna will send a solid Pattison delegation to the Democratic state convention, at Erie, next Wednesday, and one of the delegation, Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, will probably make the speech nominating the Philadelphia man for governor.

From the advice reaching here, there is scarcely a question as to the head of the ticket, Pattison is wanted, and Colonel Guffey, who will be in control of the convention, is set on having him.

Guthrie, of Allegheny, and Kerr, of Clearfield, are discussed simply as alternative propositions. Guthrie has the Allegheny delegation pledged, but it is not likely he will fight, with Pattison in the field. Kerr is considered nothing more or less than a lightning rod. There is every indication that Colonel Guffey will dictate a slate with Pattison at the head and that this slate will go through without opposition.

Guthrie can have the nomination for lieutenant governor if he wants it, but it is not probable he will care to take it. It is desirable that there should be an Allegheny man on the ticket and if Guthrie is not on it, the chances are that John R. Larkin, the new city controller of Pittsburgh, will be named for one of the offices.

Colonel Fitzsimmons is pretty well satisfied that Lackawanna can have a place on the ticket if it sees one. As yet no one from this county has been discussed as a possibility, but there is plenty of available timber and it is not altogether impossible that some Democrat from up this way will be given a place.

STARTING UP THE WASHRIES

SEVEN ARE IN OPERATION IN THIS REGION.

Strike Leaders, It Is Understood, View the Re-opening of the Washeries as a First Step Towards an Effort to Open Up Mines and Will Take Steps to Put a Stop to the Operations—Leaders Go Out Among the Rank and File Addressing Mass Meetings.

Seven washeries are now in operation in Scranton and vicinity. They are the Bellevue, Diamond and Hampton, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company; the No. 6, at Pittston, and the Glenwood, at Mayfield, of the Erie company; the Mt. Pleasant, of the Ontario and Western company and the Economy and Columbus, in Scranton, owned by smaller companies.

A meeting of the district board of the United Mine Workers is scheduled for today and it is given out that one of its purposes is to enlist the services of sub-district committeemen to the number of seven hundred to assist in the conduct of the strike. It is believed that the strike leaders feel that the opening up of the washeries is a first step towards an effort to open up some collieries and that it is expedient to use sub-committees in the localities where the washeries are located to put an end to these operations by getting the workmen to quit.

To prevent the possibility of any wavering in the ranks the leaders are going out among the locals assembling and addressing mass meetings. President Nichols and Committee members are also setting out all the Carbonate locals this afternoon. Committee Chairman Courtwright will address a meeting at Old Forge and Committee member Llewellyn in Duryea. Secretary Dempsey addressed a meeting at Archibald yesterday. Other members of the executive committee were heard in various other places.

SCHOOL OF THE LACKAWANNA.

An Institution That Merits the Consideration and Support of the People—Founded in 1872 It Has Made Its Force for Good Felt in the Community.

In September this school begins its thirtieth year. From the beginning it has been of great usefulness in the community and through its graduates exerts an increasing influence each year.

The school offers a thorough course to those who desire to go to college. Its certificate admits to many institutions. Those who take a complete course and receive the diploma of the school have little trouble in passing college examinations wherever they go. German is the language of the school and may be taken through the whole course. Every facility for rapid progress is afforded ambitious students who desire to shorten their preparatory course. Every effort is made to meet the wants of individual students.

The situation of the school at 243 Jefferson avenue (opposite Elm Park church) is the most advantageous in the city of Scranton. The building is a well-ventilated and airy structure, the main school room is supplied with electric lights. The school hours are from 8:45 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1:30 to 3 p. m. Provision is made for those who need extra attention in the preparation of lessons. Courteous behavior, serious work and prompt obedience is expected of every pupil. Students from out of town can obtain school tickets on the railroads at reduced rates.

Prizes are awarded in the upper school for general excellence and for high standing in certain branches.

Two honorary scholarships have been offered to the school by Lehigh University. Free scholarships are also granted by the University of Pennsylvania and Lafayette college. Entrance examinations to Yale, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania are held in June in the school building.

The headmaster of the School of the Lackawanna, Alfred C. Arnold (A. B. Harvard, 1884), has been principal of preparatory schools for fifteen years and a teacher for over eighteen. In the year 1902-03 all the assistants will be experienced teachers of known reputation. No effort will be spared to make the school a real and necessary to the City of Scranton.

A New Industry.

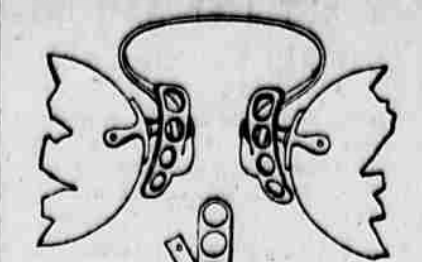

A short time ago the Boston Herald commented on the scarcity of timber for pulp in the United States, stating that the paper making industry of the world will soon be largely dependent on Canada for timber for pulp. At the same time two trade papers, the Fourth Estate and the Southern Industrial Review, commented on the same important issue. The Fourth Estate of May 10th, 1902, stated that pulp enterprises in Canada are attracting the attention of British and foreign capital, which realize the great opportunities which such investments offer, while the Southern Industrial Review, commenting on the same important issue, stated that a material which nature may renew yearly must be discovered and adapted to the trade and the most natural sources must be sought in the field of agriculture or among the fibres and grasses which have annual growth.

Hardly were the above remarks in print when the industry of the United States and the rest of the world independent of Canada in regard to their supply of pulp. The products of the National Fiber & Cellulose Co. are the best that can be furnished. An idea of the magnitude of this new industry can be formed when the considers that the waste tonnage of cornstarch in the corn belt of the U. S. amounts to over 58,000,000 tons annually. All this waste will be turned into wealth, while the enormous supply will renew itself with every year's corn-crop.

The Mail Order Journal in commenting upon the matter says: "A new industry will be a great blessing for farmers, laborers, railroads and investors. Before long there will be erected in every corn producing section plants for converting corn stalks into pulp and these local enterprises as well as the parent company will become veritable mines compared with which the pulp industry of Canada will shrink into insignificance."

"With its proverbial quickness the $112,400 APPROPRIATED.

Poor Board Proposes to Spend That Amount This Year—Tax Levy Three and a Half Mills.

The Scranton poor board yesterday afternoon appropriated $112,400 for the expenses of the present year and levied a tax of three and a half mills on an assessed valuation of $24,406,335. This is the same tax as that levied last year and the amount appropriated is almost exactly the same.

The matter was brought up by the finance committee which submitted the following estimate of expenditures:

Salary and services $22,000
Outdoor relief 10,000
Supplies 40,000
Improvements and repairs 25,000
Printing and stationery 500
Furniture 1,500
Miscellaneous 4,000
Total $112,400

Accompanying this estimate was the following estimate of revenues for the present year:

Net proceeds of a levy of 3 1/2 mills $78,000
Amount due from 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901 45,000
Amount due from state 20,000
From patients 8,000
Amount in treasury on Jan. 1, 1902 18,774
Total $169,774

Of this amount it is estimated that about $50,000 or $60,000 will not be paid this year, at least its payment is very uncertain. The assessed valuation according to a statement secured from the county commissioners is, Scranton, $22,521,790; Dunmore, $1,884,545; total, $24,406,335.

The motion appropriating the amount recommended by the committee and fixing the tax levy at three and a half mills was unanimously adopted.

ELM PARK EXCURSION.

Between 1,600 and 1,700 people journeyed to Lake Ariel yesterday on the excursion conducted by the Elm Park Sunday school. The Lawrence band accompanied the excursionists, and a delightful day was enjoyed by all.

In the morning base ball teams, composed of members of Prof. Buck's and J. G. Shepherd's classes, played a game. The latter came out victorious by a score of 15 to 14. Frank A. Kaiser won a closely contested race, in which there were nine entries. The band gave a concert in the afternoon.

ALL TEACHERS RE-APPOINTED

ACTION TAKEN BY COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT.

The Only Changes Will Be Where Teachers Have Signified Their Intention of Resigning—High School Teachers Will Also Be Retained in Service—Probability of the Erection of an Academic Building Adjoining Proposed New Normal Training School.

At a meeting of the teachers' committee of the board of control, held last night, it was decided to re-appoint all the teachers employed at present by the board. There will be but two or three vacancies, as far as is known at present, and Chairman Barker refused to announce the names of those appointed to fill these.

The high and training committee decided to re-appoint all the High school teachers. As far as is known at present there is no prospect of any vacancy at that institution.

At the meeting of the high and training committee the manual training school question came up for discussion, and it seemed to be the consensus of opinion among the members present that the board should erect a building adjoining the school for academic purposes. The manual training school is to be devoted entirely to manual training work, but it is intended that the pupils studying there shall take up other lines of studies as well and for the purpose of giving instruction in regular school work it is deemed advisable to erect this other building.

The trustees appointed by Mrs. Smith to assume charge of the fund of $50,000, which she set aside for the erection of the manual training school are to meet with the special committee of the school board in the near future to decide upon an architect to prepare plans for the building.
